Rocker Arm R190S - New Version

There are now two designs of FAI part number R190S to coincide with changes made by the OEM; introducing R1002S, the later version.

Both items perform the exact same function and are interchangeable yet unlike the manufacturer, FAI will offer both designs to give you and your customers the choice to replace like-for-like.

The differences are easy to see visually without the need for any measuring device.

Please use the guide below when discussing this issue with your customers.

Early Design: R190S

Late Design: R1002S

Noteable difference: Lateral restricter design (stops side-to-side valve movement)

Please note: FAI part number CSK3478 (camshaft kit) will continue to be packed with the older design R190S.
